Highlander Boys' Basketball: Rising Above Adversity, Photo Credit to Jenifer Suter

The Highlander boys' basketball team has truly exemplified resilience and determination throughout this season, showcasing an impressive display of skill and teamwork. As we eagerly anticipate the Regional playoffs next weekend for the second weekend in a row in West Wendover, it's important to acknowledge both our successes and the challenges we've faced along the way.

Despite securing the second-place seed for the upcoming playoffs, we unfortunately encountered a setback with Tommy Williams sustaining an injury in the Hug game. Our thoughts are with Tommy as he takes the necessary time to recuperate, and we remain hopeful for his swift return to the court.

In addition to this unfortunate news, our team faced tough competition on the road this past weekend. Despite their best efforts, the Highlanders experienced narrow defeats against Battle Mountain on Friday, with a final score of 59-62, and West Wendover on Saturday, with a score of 28-57.

However, it's often in moments of adversity that teams find the strength to regroup and refocus. These challenges serve as valuable learning opportunities, reinforcing the importance of strong fundamentals and resilience as we approach the Regional playoffs.

As we rally together in support of Tommy's recovery and prepare for the upcoming challenges, let us remember the spirit of perseverance that defines our Highlander basketball team. Our thoughts are with Tommy Williams, and we extend our best wishes for a speedy recovery. Go Highlanders! We BELIEVE!!!

- Quick Tips for the Millennium:
 - This scholarship ONLY works at institutions within the State of Nevada.

February 11th – 26th Super Bowl Sunday Update

The next edition will be published on 2/26

- There is no application process.
- IHS will generate the eligibility list AFTER GRADUATION. Graduation is part of the requirement to obtain the scholarship, so the list is not generated until after graduation day.
- You will receive a letter in the mail at the end of July / early August.
- In order to receive the money, you must ACKNOWLEDGE THE AWARD first. All the directions on how to acknowledge are in the packet you receive.
- Funds go directly to your institution. They usually do not appear until a week before the semester starts.
- To maintain benefits, you must continue to meet the requirements of eligibility. (see website for requirements)
- SCHOLARSHIP TIPS:
 - Try to submit applications at least one week before the due date. Online servers can get overloaded and stop working properly when everyone submits them on the last day. In addition, remember to account for the delivery time if mailing an application.
 - DEADLINES!!!! The majority of free money is first-come, first served. September through January is a great time to seek funds and determine what is due when.
 - NEVER NEVER pay to submit a scholarship application.
 - Always spell check and proof-read applications.
 - Make sure you have submitted everything requested and answered all the questions.
 - Don't submit anything that isn't asked for and stay under the required word count.
 - Photocopy or save everything before you submit it, in case your application gets lost and needs to be re-submitted.
 - Professionalize your online presence, remove potentially embarrassing content from social media. Use an appropriate email address.
- National Scholarships:
 - February 1, 2024

February/March

February 11th – 26th Super Bowl Sunday Update

The next edition will be published on 2/26

- If possible, schedule campus visits now for the spring term when colleges are still in session
- Plan for challenging and rigorous courses your senior year (Honors/AP). Do not “take a break”-- plan on taking a full schedule your senior year. Colleges look for rigor all 4 years of high school!
- Continue to review your progress towards meeting NCAA eligibility requirements (www.eligibilitycenter.org) for college athletics. Plan your senior year courses accordingly!
- Continue researching college costs and the process of applying for financial aid. Attend a college financial aid information session.
- Investigate scholarship opportunities- utilize online scholarship search resources and websites (see your counselor/Counseling Center for details)
- Research interesting and challenging summer courses, jobs, and activities (check for summer programs on college campuses)

April/May

- Narrow college choices to five to eight schools
- Take the SAT/ACT and Subject exams (if applicable)
- Take AP exams in May
- Research volunteer, employment and/or internship opportunities this summer to enhance your college application. Stay involved with extracurricular activities-- colleges look for consistency and depth in activities (quality vs. quantity).
- Arrange college visits and interviews for summer. Arrange tours, meet with admission counselors, and possibly stay overnight in a dorm! Review college websites for admission requirements and application deadlines.
- Review your transcript: Make sure everything is correct and no errors!

Summer

- Review and register for Fall SAT/ACT test dates. Students typically improve their scores on the second attempt.
- If planning on Division I, II, or III college athletics: Register with the NCAA online at: www.eligibilitycenter.org. Early registration helps student athletes avoid pitfalls that could delay your academic or amateur certification.
- Get involved in an internship or job related to your career interests and/or volunteer and community service activities.
- Visit the campuses of your top college choices. Keep your college options open and consider all possibilities. In addition to your “reach” and “mid-range” schools, keep some “safety” schools on your list.
- Compose rough drafts of your college essays (if required). Review with a teacher and prepare final drafts. Proofread, proofread, proofread!

☐ Consider a summer job and save your money to help pay for college costs. Develop a financial aid application plan (include list of aid sources, requirements for applications, and timetable to meet filing deadlines)

Sophomores:

- ☐ Review your progress on meeting graduation and college admission requirements. Study hard and keep your grades up!
- ☐ Continue to take challenging courses (Honors/AP)- colleges look for rigor- and get involved in extracurricular, volunteer and community service activities that are meaningful to YOU. Work toward leadership positions in activities you like best.
- ☐ Visit the College and Career Center to find information about colleges, careers, and scholarship planning. Review catalogs, computerized college-search programs, and college guides such as Big Future on <https://bigfuture.collegeboard.org/college-search>
- ☐ Start collecting college info and data such as possible majors, size, location, costs, etc. Use college websites to start exploring! Look for “Prospective Students” or “Future Students” on college websites as a starting point. Research admission requirements, application procedures, costs, majors, virtual tours, etc.
- ☐ If interested in a military academy (e.g., West Point or Annapolis), now is the time to start planning and getting information on the application process. ☐ Start collecting info about other educational/technical programs or the military if not planning to attend a college or university.
- ☐ Keep putting money aside for college- continue talking with parents about financing post high school goals.
- ☐ Start your personal and academic resume for college applications and letters of recommendation (including GPA, volunteer work/community service, employment, leadership and all extracurricular activities and hobbies).
- ☐ Read, read, read, and work on your writing skills! You will need strong reading and writing skills no matter what you do in your future.
- ☐ If a potential college requires Subject Tests, ask your counselor about taking them this year. It is a good idea to take Subject tests just after you finish your last course in that subject area (e.g., the sciences and history).
- ☐ Memorize your social security number- if you don't have one, get one. You'll need it to take admission tests and apply for college, financial aid, and jobs.
- ☐ Review NCAA eligibility requirements online at www.eligibilitycenter.org. Check all requirements (including approved Incline High School coursework) to make sure you are on track!
- ☐ Considering including college campus visits during family trips over summer or breaks.
